

ABSTRACT

An adjustable windshield or windscreen for the front or rear openings on a golf cart.

The windshield has an inner axle and outer roller with a tensionable spring affixed between the axles and outer roller.

A curtain is attached to the outer roller with a fixed element sewn into a hem of the curtain.

The curtain may be adjusted to various securing points and when released, automatically rewinds around the roller.